Dear Chairman Brooks,

After contacting the U.S. House Ethics Committee 31 January 2017, with regard to unethical behavior in Congress, instructions were given that Petitions for Redress of Grievance must be submitted in writing to this committee.

Being informed of such, I thus contact you to call for an investigation into the fact We the People have made numerous unsuccessful attempts by phone to reach Mr. Paul D. Ryan, Speaker of the House of Representatives, since he assumed that position on 29 October 2015. No live human being has once picked up the phone to answer.

Please know copies of the record, showing the attempted calls to reach staff for Congressman and Speaker Paul D. Ryan in 2015, 2016, and also attempts made into the second month of 2017 will be sent to your attention via USPO.

The attempts made in 2016 to communicate with any of the five known available phone numbers to reach Paul D. Ryan, as you will see referenced (Janesville, WI 608/752-4050; Kenosha, WI 262/654-1901; Racine, WI 262/637-0510; DC Speaker 202/225-0600; DC Congress 202/225-3031), were all voice mail recordings answering the phone, never a real live person.

After 4 January 2017, a change took place in how calls apparently are being blocked from public access by this office. Since 5 January 2017, when calls placed to all five phone numbers to reach Paul D. Ryan are made, it is no longer a voice mail greeting with prompts, but a perpetual busy signal.

I find that very troubling, considering that, since at least 29 October 2015, the American people CANNOT reach the Speaker of the House by phone. Moreover, when calls are purposely made on the weekend and after midnight to see if there is a pattern of behavior, (when you would not expect anybody to answer the phone, as it's not "business hours"), the phone calls are met, with yet again, a busy signal. How can this be? This is a real problem and a grievance that needs Congressional Redress immediately.

How can real Americans expect to get the work needed to be done to clean up the mess in order to drain the swamp created by so many in the last 8 years and more, when our true red, white, and blue phone calls are futile in their attempts to reach the Speaker of the House of Representatives? The effort to reach the third most powerful position in our republican form of government for Petition for Redress should not be an effort in vain. Your honorable action is required, and your Congressional Oath, before God Almighty, demands it and We the People demand it. Thank you.

Respectfully,

Michael D. Jackson R.N. PSalm 33:12KJB

Dear Congressman LaHood,

After contacting the U.S. House Ethics Committee 31 January 2017, with regard to unethical behavior in Congress, instructions were given that Petitions for Redress of Grievance must be submitted in writing to this committee.

Being informed of such, I thus contact you to call for an investigation into the fact We the People have made numerous unsuccessful attempts by phone to reach Mr. Paul D. Ryan, Speaker of the House of Representatives, since he assumed that position on 29 October 2015. No live human being has once picked up the phone to answer.

Please know copies of the record, showing the attempted calls to reach staff for Congressman and Speaker Paul D. Ryan in 2015, 2016, and also attempts made into the second month of 2017 will be sent to your attention via USPO.

The attempts made in 2016 to communicate with any of the five known available phone numbers to reach Paul D. Ryan, as you will see referenced (Janesville, WI 608/752-4050; Kenosha, WI 262/654-1901; Racine, WI 262/637-0510; DC Speaker 202/225-0600; DC Congress 202/225-3031), were all voice mail recordings answering the phone, never a real live person.

After 4 January 2017, a change took place in how calls apparently are being blocked from public access by this office. Since 5 January 2017, when calls placed to all five phone numbers to reach Paul D. Ryan are made, it is no longer a voice mail greeting with prompts, but a perpetual busy signal.

I find that very troubling, considering that, since at least 29 October 2015, the American people CANNOT reach the Speaker of the House by phone. Moreover, when calls are purposely made on the weekend and after midnight to see if there is a pattern of behavior, (when you would not expect anybody to answer the phone, as it's not "business hours"), the phone calls are met, with yet again, a busy signal. How can this be? This is a real problem and a grievance that needs Congressional Redress immediately.

How can real Americans expect to get the work needed to be done to clean up the mess in order to drain the swamp created by so many in the last 8 years and more, when our true red, white, and blue phone calls are futile in their attempts to reach the Speaker of the House of Representatives? The effort to reach the third most powerful position in our republican form of government for Petition for Redress should not be an effort in vain. Your honorable action is required, and your Congressional Oath, before God Almighty, demands it and We the People demand it. Thank you.

Respectfully,

Michael D. Jackson R.N. Psalm 33:12 KJB
