this is just too funny. the big 3 religions (aka the religions of Abraham) have some of the same characters and even the same adversary. now some dumb cunt makes a comment and all hell breaks lose. I have an idea....why don't they all just settle this by having god come out and say what the real deal is??? could it be because he is just an imaginary friend??? think about fools.... if you have an imaginary friend and you name him Easter Bunny they call you crazy. change his name to God and you're not crazy...you're just a Christian. lol
